School Report.

TO THE CITIZENS OF BELMONT:

It becomes our pleasant duty again to submit to you the condition of the public schools during the past year. Comparing the work of this year with that of those preceeding, we are positive that education has taken a step in advance. We entertain high hopes for the youth of the town, and have faith to believe that, with the combined efforts of parents, citizens and Board of Education, they will be realized. To be sure our labors have been attended with some hindrances, but, notwithstanding, they have been so overcome that good results have been attained in nearly all cases. Not only have the intellectual faculties of the pupils been advanced, but we trust the moral and spiritual as well.

As we can only look to the school-house of to-day for our men of to-morrow, for our leaders in town and state in the future, we appeal to you, fathers, mothers, and citizens, for your support to sustain this great cause. We have given our time and thought and exercised our best judgment on every occasion, but as we are only human, our proceedings may not, in all cases, have met with your entire approbation. A strong evidence of a school's success is the roll of honor and average attendance, which you will please notice in the tabular statement.

Another year's experience has confirmed our opinion, expressed in the report of last year, that our schools are not what they might be, because of the unfortunate location of some of the school buildings. The general plan upon which the schools have been conducted is nearly the same as last year. They were each 22 weeks in length, except in No. 7, which had but one term of 11 weeks in the fall, while others had two terms of 7 weeks each. The school-house in this place was not considered suitable for school purposes in winter weather.

The only change in appropriating the money was in paying for transporting scholars to and from school, in Nos. 4 and 9, at an expense of $49 50 and $40, respectively. By doing this there was a saving of $150, while the pupils had the advantage of better schools.

Amount of money expended, $1,211.72; balance in hands of treasurer, $14 73. As we had a balance of $100 left over from last year, it is not likely the schools can be as long the coming year without an extra appropriation. Whole number of scholars in the town, not less than five years of age, who have attended the district schools not less than two weeks, 180. Number of children in the town between the ages of five and fifteen, as reported by the selectmen: males, 84; females, 82; total 166. Number of persons between the ages of fourteen and twenty-one who cannot read and write, 4.

DETAILED REPORT.

LADD HILL.—Miss Mattie M. Bean, teacher, during the school year. This school stands in the front rank as an interesting progressive school. The past year has been a very successful one in every branch of study. In mathematics we believe this school, for the ages of the scholars, has no superior. Miss Bean has proved herself a fine teacher. The order is first-class, without which no school can succeed.

Gerald.

UNION.—Spring term, Miss Iva S. Price, teacher. Miss Price taught a very good school; quite good progress was made; order very good. During this term none but the small scholars attended school, with the exception of one or two girls.

The fall term, Miss Lillia J. Woodard, teacher. She is a graduate of the Laconia High school and is a fine scholar. We think Miss Woodard tried hard to advance the scholars in their studies, but having an element in the school to deal with that Miss Price did not have, she had a hard time of it. The school did not progress as it ought to.

Gerald.

JAMESTOWN.—Spring term of eight weeks taught by Miss Caroline Mudgett of Plymouth: this being her first term, we consider it in some respects her hardest; she exhibited all prospects of a brilliant teacher: the scholars made rapid and thorough improvement and we are happy to pronounce the school a success.

Being also very fortunate in securing the services of Miss Idella M. Drew of Gilmanton for the fall term which continued fourteen weeks, the school advanced to a high point: faithful and effectual work was done by both teacher and scholars and the result of this term's labor is one added to those that have already won for Miss Drew a reputation.

Sargent.

VILLAGE.

PRIMARY.—Spring term continuing eight weeks, Miss Etta B. Dow, teacher: this being Miss Dow's third term in the school she simply carried out her methods so well begun the previous year; the little ones made good advancement; we would make especial mention of the reading, although all did finely.

Fall school of fourteen weeks, taught by Miss Flora E. Plumer; this was her first experience in the school room and she seemed to realize the situation to the fullest extent; she labored with untiring effort and gave the school her undivided attention: the interest gradually increased; success was the result of her work.

INTERMEDIATE.—This school being taught the entire year by Miss Amy W. Cushing we will not mention the terms separately, but taking the work as a whole we have great reason to be satisfied.

Not only was there a steady intellectual improvement from the first to last, but with the thirty to thirty-five pupils ranging in ages from 8 to 15, there was a marked improvement in deportment; the children did great credit to themselves and their teacher.

It would not be doing justice to Miss Cushing should we fail to mention the brilliant and prompt recitations in the temperance catechism from time to time as we listened to them.

Miss Cushing has an aptitude for teaching which could not fail of success.

GRAMMAR.—Spring term taught by Miss May R. Moulton of Tilton. The prosperity of Miss Moulton in this school during the preceding year was only augmented by the success of this term; it is needless for us to comment further, our people knowing so well the creditable results of the eight weeks. Miss Moulton proved herself to be an excellent teacher.

Miss Kate L. Blenus of Royalston, Mass., was engaged to take the school for the remainder of the year, coming to us highly recommended by the chairman of the school board of Boscawen where she had taught four successive terms.

Being an entire stranger our anxiety was great; but before the school had proceeded far it was evident she had potency to teach the school in all its phases, and that she could sustain the report of the Board in her former place of labor.

The teacher and scholars being utterly unacquainted it required time to thoroughly understand some new methods introduced; this being accomplished the school took a start in the right direction and achievements were won in all branches which deserve praise, Miss Blenus worked hard for the school's advancement, and she introduced many new and unique ideas which were of value to the school. Sargent.

BENNETT.—First term, Miss E. E. Lamprey, teacher. This was Miss L's first attempt at teaching. The school and the classes are too small to give fair scope to a teacher, or to stimulate the ambition of the pupils.

Teacher had the good will of her scholars and labored earnestly for their welfare, with fair results. Plumer.

Fall term of eleven weeks taught by Mrs. M. J. Holman.

This school was excellent in all of its various departments; we believe Mrs. Holman should have devoted her life to that of teaching as she seems so especially adapted to the work; it is not necessary to say she met with fine success. Sargent.

PROVINCE ROAD.—Miss Edith S. Ladd, teacher for the three terms. Miss L. entered upon her duties without experience, but by her easy ladylike movements in the school room commanded the respect of the scholars, and by a thorough knowledge of the branches taught gained their confidence. We have seen more quiet schools than this. We hardly think the dropping of the proverbial pin could be heard. Teacher and pupils were too busy to listen for that. Both parties looked well to the work in hand, and the result was good advancement and a good school.
